

#29 - Tim (Chevy) Cheveldae

Tim M. Cheveldae
 Position: Goaltender
 Born February 15, 1968 in Melville, Saskatchewan
 Height: 5' 10" Weight: 195

Traded to Jets with Dallas Drake by Detroit Red Wings for Bob Essensa and Sergei Bautin, March 8, 1994. Traded with Winnipeg's 3rd round choice in 1996 Entry Draft to Philadelphia Flyers for Dominic Roussel, February 27, 1996.

The Jets acquired goaltender Tim Cheveldae from the Detroit Red Wings late in the 1993-1994 season and after finishing that year as the starter, he split time with rookie Nikolai Khabibulin in 1995. He was used mostly in a backup role the following season, but he performed admirably well when forced into the starter's role as a result of an injury to Khabibulin. He was traded to the Philadelphia Flyers late in the 1995-1996 season and he saw his last NHL action the following year as a member of the Boston Bruins. His playing career ended after the 1997-1998 season and he went on to coach at the junior level.

Goaltending Statistics

Regular Season

Season	GP	Min	GA	EN	SO	Saves	Sv %	W	L	T
1993-1994	14	788	52	0	1	433	0.893	5	8	1
1995	30	1571	97	3	0	721	0.881	8	16	3
1995-1996	30	1695	111	5	0	837	0.883	8	18	3
Totals	74	4054	260	8	1	1991	0.884	21	42	7